

61st World Day of Prayer for vocations

Lord Jesus Christ,
Son of the Father who always come
to dwell among us,
let us live according to your sentiments
so that our communities and our homes are capable of an authentic and friendly welcome places.
The young people who meet us may feel they are loved and be free in them with the desire to seek the meaning of one's life which reveals itself in their vocation.
Instill in the hearts of all baptized the willingness to spend their life in the ordained ministry, in the consecrated life, in the marital life and in the laity lived in the world, because the church which is your and our home shine with beauty of all vocations.
Amen.
